

Business High Speed Broadband Arrives to Waterford

Waterford, June 02, 2009 – UPC Business is announcing today that it can deliver a 20Mb broadband service to businesses in Waterford. The company has been voted best ISP for the past two years and the growth of broadband subscribers is testament to this and positions the company as the second largest provider in Ireland today.

Gary Power, CEO of IT services and who is UPC's local reseller in the area said:

“We design a package to best suit the needs of each business of all sizes and staff numbers. Each option presented to each client's delivers the optimal balance to demonstrate the value for any business moving forward at any pace. We're delighted to have been selected by UPC business as their preferred local reseller and look forward to growing our partnership and client base in Waterford.”

UPC Business is also a local employer in Waterford and is represented by well known figures in the community –Darren Mulhearn, Pat Haughney and Eamon Bolger. In addition, the company also has additional support from local contractor RD Communications and has approximately 30 people in the South East working on the day to day operations in the locality and surrounding areas.

Gary David Jordan, SME Channel Manager added:

“I'm delighted to work closely with Gary Power and his team at IT Services. They are an integral part to maintain contact with our business clients and develop new relationships. In addition, UPC Business is delighted to offer one of the best broadband speeds available in the marketplace and delivered across our next generation network. Through offering speeds of up to 20Mb we are opening many possibilities that enrich a local business with the assurance of a personalised customer care unit and a service that comes within budget.”
